EDITOR'S NOTES:

Greetings from a rapidly thawing N'Central Wisconsin. This edition should reach you well in advance of the Memphis Paper Money show. As I stated in the last edition, I hope to meet a lot of you there and get your input relative to what you want to see in the Ragpicker. So far I am getting feedback that indicates that there 's a lot of interest in small size FRN's. Elsewhere in this edition is a memorial to Leonard Bennett, leader in our hobby with respect to FRN's. James R. Hatch, whose first ad appears on our back cover this quarter has taken over Mr. Bennetts inventory and business. I'm working on him to supply us with an article on small size FRN collecting. One of the problems brought to my attention by Mr. Hatch is that no longer are FRN's sent to the region they are printed for...an odd procedure, because the next question that comes to mind is why bother to print for multiple districts if you're going to distribute randomly???

The Michigan State Show and the St. Louis Show are now history and its pretty warm in Wisconsin. I still hope to get this to you before the Memphis Show, but it will be a little tight...wish me luck.

William Brandimore, Editor

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

We are in receipt of $622.20, our final payment from the MSNS Treasury for our efforts in co-hosting the 1989 Fall show at Dearborn. All of the members who worked at that show can now see the benefits of their endeavors. Florence Schook deserves special praise as she is one member of our club, in particular, who put forth a great many hours to see that the MSNS show ran smoothly. Of course this is something Florence has done year in and year out where the MSNS show is concerned.

Grand Rapids this year on May 3, 4 and 5. Many of the dealers had anticipated a very slow show due to the location and our current recession. We were all pleasantly surprised, however, to do a lot of business. Collectors turned out in good numbers despite the poor economy, although the numbers just don't compare with our Fall show in Dearborn. This was the case even with the good job of advertising that was done for the show. For this reason the MSNS Board is working on the idea of changing the requirement that dealers attend the Spring Show in order to get a table at the Fall Dearborn Show. Consideration is also being given to a two day show in the Spring rather than the current three day format. Everyone will be informed of the changes if and when they are formalized by the MSNS Board of Governors.

Our PMCM meeting was held on Saturday afternoon, May 4th, at 2:00 PM...our regular "show" meeting time. We were informed that the club will get the opportunity to co-host the 1994 Fall show in Dearborn along with the Downriver Coin Club. This is a tremendous boost, financially speaking, for our club. So, plan on putting forth some extra effort as we will need plenty of workers to handle all the jobs necessary to put on this terrific show.

Attending the meeting was a lady by the name of Harriet Nordhof(now Vanderbosh) who was instrumental in getting our club started in April of 1965. She is a very pleasant person and related many tales of fellowship when the club was smaller and all the members knew each other well. One tale she told was about a bet she made with Jim Frans, that she could name the next 50 people who got off the elevator at one of the shows. She won by naming the next 62 people who got off the evevator!!! A marvelous feat for anyone, but that also shows how good her memory was, as well as the vast number of people she knew attending those state shows.

The exhibits this Spring were all very nice and were as follows: Fractional Currency of the 1st, 2nd, and 4th issues by Tom Pelton who was voted as the best of show winner and received $20 in cash. The five other entrants were Joe Mikolajczyk (FRN's), John Nammensma (Silver Certificate Star Notes of Hawaii and North Africa), Nathan Smits, an up and coming junior who exhibited notes on the civil war era, and one last exhibit on the Kalamazoo National Banks. The other competing exhibitors received various books, mostly relating to paper money. These were given out in place of plaques this year and equalled approximately $20 in value. Keep this in mind for future shows. All competing exhibitors will receive a prize rather than just the one award we have been giving out for Best of Show. The cost to the club is not that much more than buying the big clock we have been awarding and everyone will receive something. We hope this will stimulate more interest in exhibiting. If anyone has books they'd like to donate for future prizes let me know at future shows.

I have, in addition to the MSNS show, also just returned from the Central States show in St. Louis. They always have a good show and it draws more national dealers. With the recession some of these guys are having real cash flow problems, causing them to sell at lower prices. This has been depressing the market. I attended two auctions in St. Louis and Paper money prices were strong overall as compared to coins. Some obsoletes from Michigan sold for $200 to $550 and there were some First Charter Nationals that sold for up to $900, plus the juice! With prices like this you can see that paper money is KING right now. So long for now and happy collecting.

Dr. Wallace Lee, President, PMCM

CLUB NOTES: The Currency Club of Chester County sends me their bulletins...how about the rest of the clubs out there??? They are enjoying programs at each and every meeting...the heart of a good club meeting. If it weren't for adult show and tell I wouldn't have any fun at all. The club is also looking forward to the Memphis show as well as GSNA June 28-30; GENA and CCCC Sept. 27-29 at the Cherry Hill Inn; MANA Oct. 16-18 in Meyerstown PA as well as a picnic Friday, August 2, 1991 near Exton, PA. They also are treated, in their newsletter, to such rare humor such as: "Tuscaloosa, The last thing an elephant wants to hear from an Italian Dentist." How do you like that one, Wally?

HANDSIGNED FRACTIONAL CURRENCY
BY TERRY COX

If there was a proving ground for U.S. paper money, it was fractional currency. Most collectors are satisfied with a modest type collection, but specialists rejoice in the life-long search for hundreds upon hundreds of varieties. With all these varieties to choose from, some of the most appealing are the handsigned notes of the Third Issue (1864 to 1869).

RED BACKS ONLY With only a unique exception (a 10 cent green back Washington) all handsigned notes have red backs. However, not all red backs were handsigned.

IDENTIFYING HANDSIGNED NOTES Treasurers, registers, and assistants signed all notes in fountain pen ink. Whether faded by time or originally colored, virtually all handsigned signatures show a brownish tint. There is normally a noticeable contrast between the brown and the jet black ink of the regular printing. Engraved signatures show a uniform color while actual signatures always show variations of light and heavy hand pressure. Additionally, since two people signed each note, there is always wide variation in the color and touch of the two signatures. Moreover, the words "Register" and "Treasurer," if present, were hand-printed. If there is still doubt, flip the note over. On most notes, the fountain pen ink will have soaked through the paper and show up on the back.

SIGNATURE UNIFORMITY Although Spinner, Colby, Allison, Jeffries, and New personally signed some notes, they certainly had assistants who copied their signatures. Obviously, we can see variation from note to note. All told, Spinner's wonderful vanity signature seems remarkably uniform, possibly because it took more effort to reproduce. Colby's signature shows less personality and consequently more variation. Jeffries hand is quite tentative and much of the time looks like he misspelled his own name.

VARIETIES If you love tedious arguments, ask a "splitter" and a "lumper" to agree on the number of fractional currency varieties. If we confined them just to handsigned red backs, a "lumper" would say there are about 11 or 12 major variations. A "splitter" wouldn't even slow down until he got into the range of 75 or so. My vote is 25, but regardless of where we split hairs, we find handsigned red backs in four designs spread among three denominations: 10 cent Washington, 15 cent Grant/Sherman specimen, 50 cent Spinner, and 50 cent Justice.

RARITY Overall, I'm guessing that green back notes are twice as common as red backs. Oddly, it seems that about half of the red backs that survive are handsigned. Among the 10 cent red backs, probably more than half are handsigned. Although we don't know the original ratio of handsigned to engraved signatures, it seems that the survival rate for handsigned notes is far too high. I think condition tells us why.

CONDITION Whenever you see hand signed fractionals, chances are they will be in top condition (AU or better.) In fact, it's hard to find circulated notes. I suspect ordinary people considered them as curiosities and saved them much the same way that modern families save $2 bills. Hence the good conditions and high survival rates.

Even though we typically find handsigned notes in top conditions, possibly a quarter to a half of them show ink deterioration in the signature. The problem usually shows as a cracking in the paper around the heavier ink flourishes. It's particularly common in Spinner's heavy-handed signature where you'll often see whole pieces of paper missing. The reason is that the fountain pen ink was slightly acidic and has dissolved the paper fibers over 125 years. Unless neutralized, the action will continue and will always be worse in the more humid parts of our country.

DATING Although Third Issue notes were printed from Dec. 5, 1864 to August 16, 1869, officials signed red back notes for many years. Comparing dates of office with note issuance, we see that John New had to have signed six year old notes in order to get fractional collectors to notice him.

William Rosecrans stretched even further because he didn't come to office until 1885, sixteen years after the Third Issue was retired. Nonetheless he managed to find and sign at least two Spinner 50 cent notes that Spinner had partially completed.

Book Review by Jerome H Remick 1991 Catalog on Specialized Issues of World Paper Money.

The sixth edition of "THE STANDARD CATALOG OF WORLD PAPER MONEY, VOLUME I SPECIALIZED ISSUES" by Albert Pick and edited by Colin R. Bruce II and Neil Shafer was released in March 1991 by the publisher: Krause Publications, 700 East State Street, Iola, WI 54990. The catalogue is available from the publisher at $55, plus $2.50 handling charges for U.S. residents and $5 for those living elsewhere.

The 1008 page catalogue is printed on 8 1/2 x 11 inch pages and is bound with a hard cover.

This volume covers notes issued over the last 300 years by various early provincial and state level governments as well as numerous issues sponsored by banks and regional and military authorities.

A section of 30 pages is devoted to United States Continental currency and to State Currency (mostly Civil War and post Civil War issues).

New to this edition are many proofs and specimens printed by the American Bank Note Company which were recently sold at auction or will be sold this year.

Volume II of this catalogue issued in June 1990 at $49 U.S. plus the same handling charges cited above, catalogues the general issues of currency notes issued by all countries of the world.

IN MEMORIUM OF LEONARD BENNETT

Leonard Bennett passed away last year on Thursday, October 4, 1990 of Cancer. His passing leaves a considerable void, as he was one of the last of the FRN authorities.

His hard work over the years, elevated not only his knowledge but all of ours. His six catalogs helped us all, as they were much more than mere calatogs.

Since taking over his business, I know from all the responses I have received that he was considered by all as a true gentleman, a leader, a resource and an inspiration to us all. I know that you, as well as I, will miss him and his contributions to our FRN paper money hobby.
